

Learning from Curitiba

Carmen Vidal-Hallett, LEED AP, International Associate, AIA

Mark Hallett

Carmen Vidal-Hallett and Mark Hallett will share their knowledge from a research study of Curitiba, Brazil, one of the most environmental cities in the world. ■ Funded by the Graham Foundation for Advanced studies in the the Fine Arts, they explored similarities between Curitiba and Chicago; including rapid transit systems, city planning and environmental exchange with the development community, recycling program, policies on historic preservation, bicycling routes, green architecture and much more. ■ Sponsored by Design Evanston, and the Evanston Environment Board, this event will take place at 7:00pm, Thursday, October 26, 2006 in the main community room on the first floor of the Evanston Public Library, 1703 Orrington Avenue.
